Communication skills

- Group spirit and ability in the management of group work and in the perception of individual needs. I was able to develop these skills thanks to the team working experience at my university when I was deputy editor of the student newspaper "The Fugitive".
- Willingness to listen and to compare gained through experience both within the student group of my faculty and in my experiences of collaboration with N.G.O. overseas.
- Excellent communication skills-relational acquired thanks to the experience of collaboration at the Information Office of my university after obtaining the office of Student advisor and winner of the study-job announcement 150 hours.
- Aptitude for contact with customers, acquired thanks to the experience of event organizer at some activities in Abruzzo and at some food centers in Calabria.
- Good communication and relational skills developed both in the University at the time of group projects and private lessons, as well as working on telephone communications and internal communications.
- Constructive attitude and excellent sense of adaptation thanks to the frequentation of multicultural environments where it was essential to interact with others to achieve a shared goal...

Organisational / managerial skills

- I consider myself a precise person and attentive to the details, qualities that I gained in particular in the years as a university student when I was elected as an advisor to the students of my faculty. I had the responsibility to interact with the highest offices of the university to cope with some managerial and structural deficiencies of the training complex.
- Excellent management skills acquired at the editorial offices where I did internship and in collaboration with the Gedi Gruppo Editoriale in Rome.
- The commitment to the N.G.O. with which I collaborated taught me to organize my work minutely, improving the result in a less time.
- Working in contact with children allowed me to develop strong problem solving skills.
